FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

QUAY can take his own advice. He doesn't talk just now.

CAPT. BROPHY seems to have held the winning hand in the Lawrenceville poker games on Sunday morning.

SO WE are to have another campaign of intellect in 1892. The Republicans will be able to give a good account of themselves in it.

THE gamblers will have more cause than ever to be superstitious. Thirteen arrests were made at each poker raid of Sunday morning.

THE President sent his first vote to the House Saturday. It was to prevent Ogden, Utah, from taxing itself into bankruptcy.

SOME newspapers now busily engaged in nominating governors, will presently discover that there are conventions for that sort of thing.

THE shorter the debate on the McKinley tariff bill the better. The question has been thoroughly threshed out and the people want action, not talk.

WHEN the new silver bill has been in operation a few years there won't be room enough in Washington for the silver and the office-holders, let alone anybody else.

THAT one man now seems to be in the lead for the governorship race proves nothing. He may trip up and fall flat before the convention convenes.

THE annual report of Insurance Commissioner Forster shows that the increase in fire and marine insurance in the State has been very marked and that the business may be regarded as first-class.

THE heads that wear crowns in Europe will lie particularly uneasy until May 1, is past. Their workmen subjects are preparing for one of the largest labor demonstrations on that day ever held.

WHENEVER the state stamps out the saloon, organizes industrial schools in every community and restricts immigration, the population of our prisons will begin to decrease.

A FIRM has gone into the business of perpetuating the buffalo, but the Wild West shows and museums can be trusted to perpetuate the Indian as long as the supply of old blankets, paint and feathers holds out.

To a person not acquainted with the facts in the case it would seem as if the sentences imposed by the Court on the liquor law violator on Monday should have been reversed. But to one who knows the two cases they seem all right.

THE immense Metropolitan Opera House was too small last night to hold the admirers of the great little Patti. She carried that enormous throng with her the whole evening, and was recalled again and again. The witching creature's art is not wholly vocal. The way she hurled kisses at the gallery last night, and pressed to her lips the corsage bouqpents that came pelting down from the boxes, shows that Patti knows human nature as well as her scales.—Ex

LEONARD RHONE TALKS.

Hon. Leonard Rhone talked to a Philadelphia reporter on Friday and said that he spoke for an organization that numbers 40,000 voters in this commonwealth.

"Several weeks ago" said Mr. Rhone, "I sent out inquiries among the representative men in our organization as to whom their communities preferred among those who are discussed as Gubernatorial candidates. I have received 300 replies and they go to show that the Democrats want to see ex-Governor Pattison renominated, while the Republicans are all opposed to Senator Delamater and divided in their preference between General Hastings and A. L. Taggart of Montgomery county, for the Republican nomination."

THE CENTRAL CITY.

Omaha, the Metropolis of Nebraska.—The Liveliest City in the West.

From our Special Correspondent.

Eastern people, who have not been West, have a very inadequate idea of the growth, prosperity and present greatness of the occidental cities. These have developed so marvellously in so short a time that they are as yet practically unknown to the older states. People who went to school a few years ago and studied in their geographies the then insignificant populations of Minneapolis, Kansas City and Omaha, do not realize that these places have now become magnificent cities, abounding in wealth luxury and splendor, crowded with costly buildings, and containing all the conveniences, refinements and luxuries of the most advanced civilization. It is amusing to hear the wondering pity with which many untravelled Pennsylvanians regard the people who live in the Western cities. They seem to think them lost to all civilization, deprived of all social and educational opportunities, and forced to occupy their time in tracking the ferocious grizzly or in defending themselves from the still mare blood-thirsty Indian. It will be a pleasure and a duty to remove these erronious impressions, and give those of your readers who have not travelled some idea of the wonderful "boom" towns of the great valley.

Seventeen hours in a Pullman varied by two good meals in a sumptuously appointed dining car, bring us to Council Bluffs, or rather to the transfer depot, a mile and a half from the city. Then we crossed a lofty bridge over the Missouri, which here well deserves its nick name of the "Big Muddy." Far beneath it flows like a great sewer, between two wide plains of mud and sand. On either side the bluffs rise out of the mud, and we saw on those of the west, the towers and pinnacles of Omaha gleaming in the brilliant sunlight. On the flats below are numerous wretched shanties, tents and old fashioned immigrant wagons, [illegible] still need [illegible] too poor to pay even the slight cost of second class tickets on the railroads. They are a reminder of the early times when Omaha was the starting point for the great caravans which here began their tiresome journey across the plains.

We arrived in the extensive station of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and saw a long train of Pullman cars ready to start for its two thousand mile trip towards the setting sun. The great number of these long trains of Pullmans in the West is very significant. Everybody, except the newly arrived immigrant, seems to travel in palace cars. The distances they have to traverse are so enormous, that they are glad to make use of every convenience to lessen the tedium of the journey. We left here our fellow travelers who were bound further on, entered a "bus," and were driven to our hotel. On the way we got a confused impression of wide streets, lofty buildings, and crowds of people. In the spacious rotunda of the parlor were still greater crowds, coming and going with all the energy and push of New Yorkers. While we were waiting for a chance to register our names, we looked with interest at the lofty and splendid stairway which was last year the scene of the King—Beechler tragedy: Rich young Henry King was here shot down in cold blood by his discarded mistress, Lizzie Beechler. A gallant and pious Omaha jury, struck by the beauty of the murderess, impressed by the Biblical warning that the wages of sin is death, and that the murdered man had paid them, and moved by the affecting eloquence and gray headed sentiment of Gen. Gowan, the defendant's counsel, returned, in defiance of the law and the evidence, a verdict of not guilty. The murderess went free, and on the day she was liberated received ten offers of marriage from cranks, and desperate characters who had heard that she possessed money. Such is the gallantry of the Westerner, that a woman has every privilege and no duties. She can be wicked, sinful and depraved, and climax her errors by shooting her lover, but, so long as she is good looking, she is safe. But woe, woe, unutterable woe to her, if she is so unfortunate as to be homely. Then she has no rights, and is neglected and treated as a nuisance by all. The West is a Paradise for a pretty woman, but a hell for an ugly one.

A bright young friend dropped in and proposed to show us round the city. We walked out on Farnam street and were soon in the stream of people flowing down that handsome thoroughfare. Our friend stopped us at the splendid new building of the First National Bank. We went up an elegant marble staircase, and then, through fine mahogony doors, entered the banking room. It is very large and imposing. Ascending by one of the two elevators, we reached the upper floors, also finished in marble, and supplied with every luxury. A little further down the street, we came to the United States National Bank building, a beautiful and imposing structure of stone. In the upper floors are the rooms of the Omaha Club. They are very handsomely furnished and decorated, and comprise card and reading rooms, a well appointed billiard room, and a fine dining room, where we had a recherche lunch.

Coming out from the club we walked to the new bridge across the Missouri. This bridge is a magnificent iron structure, very lofty, and crossed by an electric car line to Council Bluffs. One of the seemingly magic cars came along as we stood there. No means of locomotion was apparent, only the long rod reaching up to the wire overhead. These electric railroads are one of the most wonderful, and certainly the most impressive, of modern inventions. When you see the cars run by, propelled by invisible forces, you cannot fail to realize the marvellous nature of this remarkable triumph of human ingenuity. Several of these lines run through Omaha and furnish the much needed rapid transportation. Two cable lines, and numerous horse car lines, also accommodate the public. The city is penetrated in any direction by these trainways, and every part of it is thus rendered easily accessible.

The Millard hotel was our next stopping place, and we truthfully praised that spacious caravansary. Turning again into Farnum street, we entered the Union Club. Its rooms are handsomely furnished, and its members should consider themselves fortunate. The Barker & Range Blocks are imposing and costly buildings. The Paxten Block, belonging to the well known Cattle King, who is familiarly [illegible] finest buildings in the city. Max Meyer's splendid jewelry store, which compares favorably with many of the most famous Eastern stores of the kind, and is filled with beautiful articles of luxury, occupies the street floor. Above is the public library, fenned under the provisions of the State Law, and supported by the city government. Its privileges and books are free to every resident of the city, and its reading room is open every day in the week, to all the world. It is frequented by great numbers of people, and is an admirable means of popular culture. It now contains 21,000 volumes, well selected. The board of control is appointed by the Mayor, and is composed of a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen. A leading lawyer is the President, and the daughter of one of the city's most prominent millionaires is one of the Vice Presidents. It is a good sign, and hopeful for the future of the city that such people, all of whom have large libraries of their own, should interest themselves in the library of the poor.

Across the street is the Chamber of Commerce, a handsome modern building, containing a spacious hall for the Board of Trade. In the next block, the beautiful new court house rears its graceful dome above all the surrounding structures. Opposite is the really splendid ten story brown stone edifice of the New York Life Insurance Company. This enormous building contains three hundred offices, intended for lawyers, for whose use a well chosen library has been opened by the company. The new and beautiful building of the Omaha Daily Bee stands next. All these splendid structures are monuments to the wealth and taste of the people. They were designed by the best architects, who being unlimited as to cost, allowed their fancy full play. The result is that these edifices will compare favorably with any in the country. But from an architectural standpoint, we confess that we prefer the Y. M. C. A. building on Sixteenth street. It is not very large but it is beautiful in its peaceful lines and purity of style. The interior is well fitted up for the use of the Association, and its reading rooms, gymnasium and assembly hall are all that could be desired. Near it are two handsome bank buildings which are ornaments to the street.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our regular Correspondent.]

Washington, D. C., April 28, 1890.

The President is very much interested in the early adjournment question, and he told a prominent Senator that he hoped things might be so managed as to secure the adjournment of Congress by the first of July. That is the republican programme, and at this writing it is not believed that the democrats can prevent it, though they have announced their intention of trying to do so.

Mrs. Garfield was at the white House Saturday for the first time since the death of her husband, the late President Garfield.

Senator Hoar's introduction of a Federal election bill at the request of the Senate committee on Elections has had a very depressing effect upon the southern democrats in Congress. They have believed, or pretended to believe up to this time that the republicans were only trying to bluff them when they talked about passing a Federal election bill, but they recognize the fact that this bill, which has been approved by the republican Senatorial caucus, means business.

The vacancy on the committee on Rules, generally considered the most important in the House, caused by the death of Mr. Randall is exciting a great deal of interest. The friends of Mr. Mills want him to have it, but it is said that Speaker Reed will under no circumstances appoint him. Other Southern members are mentioned, but the latest rumor is that a democratic caucus will request the speaker to give the place to either Mr. Springer, of Illinois, or Mr. Holman, of Indiana, because the other democrat on the committee—Mr. Carlisle—is from the South. The matter will probably be settled this week.

A meeting of the Republican National Committee in this city has been called for May 7, to make arrangements for the coming Congressional campaign. As usual whenever a meeting of the committee is to be held there are lots of rumors as to what will be done. One of them is that Senator Quay will retire from the chairmanship and that he will be succeeded by Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson.

The Republican caucus committees of the House and Senate have agreed upon a silver bill, it is a compromise between the Windom bill which was favorably reported by the House committee and the Jones bill which the Senate committee had reported favorably. The new bill seems to satisfy everybody except a few extremists on both sides of the question.

Senator Quay, Speaker Reed, Gen. J. S. Clarkson and other prominent Republicans attended a dinner at Pittsburg Saturday night, given by the Americus Republican Club of that city to celebrate the anniversary of Gen. Grant's birthday. The distinguished party returned to Washington this moning.

Representative Burrows, of Michigan was designated by Mr. Reed as Speker pro tem during the Speakers absence.

Its expected that the tariff bill will be taken up by the House the last week or the first of the next following. When once taken up it will be given the right of way until disposed of. It will go through the House practically as it is, but there is a strong probability that one of the clauses will be amended before it passes the Senate.

The quickest piece of legislation of the present session was the joint resolution appropriating $15000 for the relief of the sufferers by the flood in the Mississippi river; it was passed by the House and Senate and approved by the President all in one hour.

Senator Ingalls has returned from Kansas and if his looks count for anything he is not at all alarmed about the alleged movement in that State to prevent his re-election to the Senate. Either Kansas nor the republican party can afford to have Mr. Ingalls retired.

Ex-Senator Ferry, of Michigan, who presided over the Senate during the closing period of the settlement of the Hayes-Tilden electoral count, has been spending a few days here. He was warmly greeted on the floor of the Senate.

The Sherman anti-trust bill has been favorably reported to the House. The committee in its report says that while the measure is not precisely what any member of the committee could have proposed upon his own motion it is recommended for passage as the only legislation on the subject that under the existing circumstances seems likely to be adopted.

The World's Fair bill having been approved by the President, the Chicago hustlers have gone home to begin work. If they work as well at Chicago as they did here the exposition will be the greatest success of the age.

Representative Burrows found it necessary to count a quorum Saturday while acting as Speaker of the House. He was equal to the occasion.

In Other Counties.

The hotel Denny at Ebensburg was robbed on Thursday morning of several dollars in money, a bottle of liquor and everything in the eatable line.

The contract for the building of the Galitzin water works has been let to Mr. D. Wylie, of Altoona. Mr. Wylie intends commencing work immediately and will push it rapidly.

On Thursday evening Bert Moore, son of one of Greensburg's prominent citizens, attempted to end his earthly existence by hanging himself in the stable, but was cut down before the vital spark had fled. He had been drinking heavily for several weeks and it is thought this unbalanced his mind.

Mrs. James Snodgass, of Greensburg, was lying in a comatose condition yesterday from the effect of a drug taken, it was believed, with suicidal intent. Every effort was being made to save her life. Her husband was away from home.

The barn of Dr. Z T Jones, near Shade Gap, Huntingdon county, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock. One horse, two mules, 100 bushels of wheat, some corn and hay were consumed. The barn was almost new and the loss is estimated at $2,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Venus is evening star. This charming and attractive star can be found in the northwestern sky, shortly after sunset.

Jupiter is morning star. He can be seen just above the horizon in the western sky, in the last half of the night.

Saturn is evening star, and can be seen in the east.

Uranus is the evening star, and can be easily observed about 3 degrees northeast of Spica.

Farmers Can Pay in Work.

A Hillman, Mich., man is accused of selling his vote for two bushels of buckwheat.

Four burglars spent two sleepy hours drilling a hole in a Sturgis, Mich., safe which wasn't locked.

The submarine boat Goubet, in its last trials at Cherbourgh, cut the cables of five buoys, cutting some of them while at full speed.

A contemporary, which has been looking into the matter, reports that fewer daily papers are published in Boston now than in 1846.

On the 630 acre farm of ex-Governor Glick, near Atchison, Ia., there is not a single horse. The Governor believes in mule power and uses those animals exclusively.

Miss A. Doll, of Hamilton, Mo., correctly solved the problem of how to plant an orchard containing 19 trees in nine straight lines with five trees in each row.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward's oldest son, Arnold, who is only 14 years old, is said to be a literary prodigy; he recently sent an essay to a magazine and received a check for $50 and a letter of thanks.

T. G. Sherman, of Brooklyn, has offered a prize of $250 for the best essay on State and local taxation, the essay not to exceed 25,000 words, and to be completed before December 1, 1890.

John McFadden was plowing a field near Ventura when he unearthed a portion of an ancient coat of mail. Although the find was rusty it was easily seen to be the breastplate of an armor.

A Parsons, Kan., [illegible] that Kansas eggs stand [illegible] man says the Eastern markets than Missouri eggs. The hens in the latter State are smaller and inferior in every way to those in Kansas.

The directors of the Provincial Bank of Ireland have issued a decree that no clerk in their employ receiving less than £150 a year shall be allowed to marry. A similar rule is in force in some of the principal London banks.

E W Cato, who lives five miles south of Tinney's Grove, Ray county, Mo., is the owner of a madstone which he took from the stomach of a striped-hoof deer that he killed 30 years ago in the State of Alabama.

The biggest edible oysters in the world are found at Port Lincoln, in South Australia. They are sometimes more than a foot across the shell, and the oyster fits the shell so well he does not leave much margin. It is also said that their flavor and delicacy are proverbial.

Old furniture still sells extremely well. In Paris recently two Louis XIV. cabinets, ornamented with ancient Sevres porcelain, brought 115,000 francs, a Louis XV, chest of drawers 13,000 francs, and a jardiniere in old Sevres porcelain 4,000 francs.

AMERICUS CLUB BANQUET.

The Americus Club of Pittsburg, banquet Saturday evening was an appropriate observance of the sixty-ninth anniversary of the birth of General Grant. The arrangements appear to have bern in good taste, and the proceedings were creditable to the club. The speeches were quite up to speeches on such occasions. We have referred elsewhere to Speaker Reed's observations. First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson's forcible words of a thoughtful man were scarcely less worthy of attention. Governor Beaver's speech was an appropriate reference to General Grant as one of the two great Americans of the century.

Base Ball Matters.

Lock Haven is trying to organize a base ball club. A few boys have secured a piece of ground and marked off a diamond and now the Lock Haven Democrat has commenced to print "brag" about the home club and throw out challenges to Renovo, Williamsport, and even Bellefonte clubs, to come to Lock Haven and learn how to play ball. About the only ball they can play in Lock Haven is "sock ball."

THE Republican caucus bill on the Silver question don't please the Democratic organs. No bill that the Republicans could agree upon any measure would please them. The Democrats may be expected to oppose any measure advocated by Republicans.

FURTHER ON THE SILVER QUESTION—WHAT SECRETARY WINDOM SAYS.

"The bill recommended by the Treasury was framed mainly for two purposes. First, to meet the demand for an increase of circulation, and second, to enhance the value of silver by providing for it an additional and safe use as money. If approved by Congress it will, in my judgment, accomplish both of these objects and at the same time afford a fair and just basis for harmony of action on the silver question. To the silver interests it offers every substantial benefit that can be granted without peril to our financial sytem, and far greater advantages than can be found in free coinage. To those who demand 'more money' it offers an annual increase of from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000. To those who insist upon a sound currency it gives the amplest guarantee against degradation of the American dollar. But to those who would inflate the currency by injecting into it a large volume of money without adequate safeguards against depreciation it offers no comfort whatever. And right here is found the secret of much opposition to some of its redemption features.

"In reply to your friendly criticism, let me invite your attention to the extraordinary concessions which are offered to the silver sentiment of the country:

"First—It is proposed to absorb all the silver produced by the mines and reduction works of the United States, thereby withdrawing from the market nearly one-half of the entire silver product of the world and thus greatly enhancing the value of the whole.

Second—Not content with this concession, which is surely without a parallel as to any other product, the Senate committee insists that the Government shall be compelled to purchase $4,500,000 worth of silver in each month, making $54,000,000 a year, which with the amount needed for the arts and for our trade with China, will exceed our own production by about $10,000,000 per annum; How is this excess to be obtained? Only by purchase from abroad. In the event of an unfavorable balance of trade, when our gold will be most needed at home, we shall be compelled to export ten millions of gold which we will then sorely need to pay for ten millions of silver which we will not need at all. This compulsory purchase of so great an amount will result in the most gigantic 'corner' ever organized.

"Third—The bill reported by the House committee provides that the notes issued for silver bullion shall be redeemed in standard silver dollars if demanded by the holder. This will give to the owners of silver bullion the power to convert every ounce produced in this country into standard silver dollars at their own will and pleasure. True, there is not the slightest danger that this power will be exercised, because no sane man will prefer to convert Treasury notes, which the Government is bound to redeem in gold or its equivalent, into standard silver dollars unless he may want a limited number of them for some specific purpose, Under this bill the Government will not force silver dollars into circulation, but it will permit any one to have coined as many of them as he can pay for with Treasury notes. What more can the advocates of silver coinage demand? Surely nothing, unless they desire to compel the Treasury to force standard dollars into our circulation for the sole purpose of depreciating and degrading it. Is it not enough that we take nearly one-half of the world's silver product and lock it up in order to increase the value of the other half? that we join the silver producers in the most gigantic 'corner' ever organized, and that we give to the owners of silver bullion the right and the power to convert every ounce of our product into standard silver dollars if they choose to do so?

"For all those unparalleled concessions to the silver interests, what is demanded in return? Only the privilege of protecting the honor and credit of the Nation by a grant of power to redeem its notes in either gold or in its equivalent of silver bullion. All of the bills on this subject contemplate a policy to extend over an indefinite period, and which will result in the issue of a very large volume of Treasury notes. If they be made redeemable in lawful money, they must be paid in the best lawful money if demanded, in accordance with the high rule of honor which this Government has thus far maintained, and by which it has established a credit the pride and boast of our people. If the balance of the trade shall turn against us, or if distrust shall arise as to our ability to pay in gold, as it surely will under such a provision of law, or for any other reason we shall be unable to redeem in gold when demanded, the Government will be compelled to discriminate against silver dollars, when gold will at once command a premium, and this Nation will step down from its present proud position and take its place on the financial basis of China, India, and South America.

"It is to save us from this danger that I have insisted so strenuously for the provision to redeem in gold or its equivalent of silver bullion. I know of but two ways by which the proposed issue of Treasury notes can be anchored to the recognized values of the commercial world. One is the bullion redemption feature, provided in the Treasury bill, and the other is the authority to sell bonds in order to provide a reserve fund to meet the constantly increasing volume of proposed Treasury notes. The latter I believe to be both unnecessary and unjustifiable. The former I believe to be entirely practicable and safe. Even with this safeguard against destruction to the fair fabric of our national credit, the extraordinary cancessions above mentioned approach as near to the 'dangerous edge of peril' as prudence will dare to tread. Rather than go one step further in that direction, I firmly believe that it would be far better to have no legislation on the subject."

The whole country has come to the thought that we must have further silver legislation. The views expressed by Secretary Windom are thoroughly sound, practical and, withal, embody broad statesmanship. He avoids lending himself to schemes that look only to enhancing the value of silver regardless of the effect upon National credit. We cannot doubt that it will be both wise and satisfactory to the Nation to try the plan he advocates and await the effect.

Talking About Smart Dogs.

"You talk about your smart dogs," said Detective Hays the other day, in conversation with a party of sportsmen, "but I had a setter once that was one of the most remarkable and best trained dogs that I ever knew. I had him in New Orleans once and was at the St. Charles Hotel. One morning, when I came down from breakfast, I saw my dog squatted in the middle of the office floor "pointing" to the clerk's desk, He had the true position of the setter in a quail brush. Quite an admiring crowd was gathered about him wondering what he was up to. I walked up to the desk, feeling certain that my dog scented game. I saw nothing, however, and was just about to chide the animal when, happening to glance on the register, I saw this: 'A Partridge.' Oh, but that was a smart dog!"

See that man?

The one with such a vigorous and healthy look?

Yes. You wouldn't think he had one foot in the grave, would you?

No, indeed, he looks the picture of health.

Well, he is.

What made you say he had one foot in the grave, then?

Because he has. He lost one foot in a railway accident, and it was buried. You'd never think he could walk so naturally with a cork.

But the man was gone and he was left to talk to vacancy.

ONLY THE GENERAL MANAGER.

The train had arrived and departed when the station agent, who had been in the place about three weeks and was looking for a call every hour to come to headquarters and take charge of the line, was approached by a quiet, well-dressed man smoking a cigar, who asked:

Keep you pretty busy here?

Yum, was the jerky reply.

Business on the increase?

Yum, again.

Do you run this station? asked the quiet man, after a turn on the platform.

Nobody else runs it! growled the agent. Have you a patent car-coupler.

Oh, no.

I was going to tell you to go to thunder with it if you had. Want special freight rates, I suppose?

No, sir.

I don't give any passes.

I don't want any.

Waiting for the next train?

Not particularly.

Want to charter a car?

No.

The agent left him on the platform and entered his office and busied himself for an hour, when the quiet man looked in and asked.

What's the salary of a position like this?

That's my business, was the prompt reply.

What's the income from this station?

Ask the baggageman.

Your name is——, isn't it?

Suppose it is?

Oh, nothing much—only I'm the general manager of the line, and I'd like to exchange cards with you.

A sign of Spring—"Carpets taken up and beaten."

"Well, can't you decide? It never takes me more than a minute to make up my mind!" "I'm not surprised, my dear. It shouldn't take anyone more than a minute to make up your mind."

Rev. Mr. Winkwunk—My hearers, I shall have to ask your indulgence for a few minutes. I forgot my manuscript and have sent my little boy for it. His son (coming in)—Marm couldn't find the writin,' but here's the book you copied it from.

S. S.—Johnny, you did splendid today.

Yes, ma'am.

I wish all the little boys in the class would study their lessons as you do. Are you struggling to win the prize?

Naw. Dad said he'll gimme a ticket to the next circus if I got my lesson without a break.

"What did hubby do while his wifey was away?" asked the dear creature on her return. "I played solitaire nearly every evening," he replied, sheepishly. "Who with?" was the next query, in a tone of deep susp

THE OLD WAR GOVERNOR.

From the Lock Haven DEMOCRAT,

Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, now known throughout the United States and Europe and in fact in all christendom as the great war governor of Pennsylvania, was Governor Pollock's Secretary of State, previous to which he had been State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He was elected Governor in 1860 over Henry D. Foster and was re-elected in 1863 over the eminent jurist, Chief Justice George W. Woodward. He represented this government under the Grant administration at the Court of St. Petersburg, being sent to Russia in 1869. He was a member of the last Constitutional convention and served six years in the House at Washington, representing his district, of which this county was then a part, in the 47th, 48th and 49th Congresses.

In view of the fact that the Fifth Pennsylvania Reserves will have a reunion in Columbia, Lancaster county, on the 14th of May, at which Governor Curtin is to be present, the Independent of that borough recalls the incident of Curtin's promise that "the bones of every soldier from the State, who died in the service, should be brought home and buried in Pennsylvania soil, and the widow and orphans of every Pennsylvania soldier should be cared for and educated by the State. This promise was redeemed to the letter. In no national cemetery in the South is there a known Pennsylvania soldier's grave, and in the case of the soldier's widows and soldier's orphans Pennsylvania has led every other State. It was also Governor Curtin's boast that no soldier's letter to him, however unimportant, was unanswered."

The same paper further observes: "For the past 40 years Gov. Curtin has been part and parcel of the history of our country. Many Columbians of the present generations have never seen him. A few generations ago he was a regular spring visitor, clad in his red shirt and a few other fixings. He would come down on a raft and was one of the best hands of his time. From his rafting days until the present he has always been a safe pilot, and he has had varied experience in that line. Every Pennsylvania ex-soldier," continues this same journal, "loves the old War Governor. He has a particularly warm place in the hearts of the Penn'a Reserve boys. He was their God father. He cared for them; visited them when they needed his kind services, and they always gave him a hearty welcome. Their love will never wane. Their children have inherited the affection, and when the good old man departs this life his memory will be held sacred by them and their posterity.

That the old War Governor will be warmly received in Columbia is a foregone conclusion and the Independent states that the only thing that will prevent his being there will be sickness or death. We hope they will have a good time, but of this there is no doubt.

A New Advertising Agency.

We are in receipt of circulars, and other matter, from the Eureka Advertising Agency in the booming new town of Lester Shire. The Agency is in the hands of men who have had years of experience, not only in newspaper work but in handling advertising. The new concern already has the business of several large advertisers to handle and fair prospects of securing that of others. Lester-Shire, where the Agency is located, is about midway between New York and Buffalo, in Broome county, N. Y., about two miles from Binghamton, and has had the most phenomenal growth of any town in the Eastern States for the past few months. It has the best of railroad facilities; is in the fa famed Susquehanna Valley, and has a future that is already assured, as manufactories are springing up as if by magic. There is not another Advertising Agency between Buffalo and New York, and the Eureka will undoutedly command a large business.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by D. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness, swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain and possibly your life. AWAITING THE SHOCK.

Kemmler's Lightning Bolt of Death Not Yet Launched.

HE IS GETTING NERVOUS

It Is Feared That He May Not Be Able to Stand the Awful Strain, and There May Be a Scene at the Last Moment—The Preparations.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 30.—The sun shone bright on the lawn in front of Kemmler's cell Tuesday morning as if it was trying to show him how beautiful was the world he was about to leave. The robins sang and whistled in the ivy, and Warden Durston's two big dogs, Lionel and Don, frolicked inside the walls.

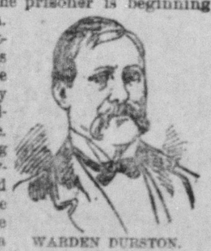
There was the same dribbling stream of curious looking people on State street and there was the same halt in front of the big iron gates as before. After 9 o'clock the visitors began to come, and the one armed, soldierly looking guard who stands at the gate was kept busy turning his great key in the iron barred door. The correspondents were ubiquitous and swarmed everywhere.

Kemmler, who is at present the object of interest in the entire country, spends his time scratching his name on cards and adding, as if no one would know unless he did so, the words "Auburn, N. Y." and the date. He and the good Daniel McNaughton sat up very late Monday night, talking and reading, and it was almost midnight before the hum of their voices ceased.

Then Kemmler went to bed and slept, as he always does, soundly and well. Some one took his motto calendar away a few days ago, and when he got up Tuesday morning he missed it for the first time. He felt very bad over its loss, and was satisfied only when Daniel promised him a new one.

He Feels the Strain.

It is said that the prisoner is beginning to feel the strain. He knows perfectly well that his time is up and he knows he is only waiting the warden's pleasure. Tuesday morning he was quite nervous and acted strangely. He looked out of the barred window a long while after he had eaten his breakfast and when he turned away he sighed deeply. He may never see the sun shining again.



WARDEN DURSTON.

It looked so pleasant outside with the grass taking on a bright green and the trees budding in the spring air, and the birds flying here and there, that life must seem very sweet to that ignorant man who is waiting for a death of which he knows nothing and which he does not understand. He has been told it will come painlessly but surely, and he has believed until he felt it was inevitable.

There May Be a Scene.

But now the change has come. He was not so confident, so cheerful, as he had been, and unless the warden decides quickly there may be a scene in the death chamber when the man is about to be given over to the grasp of the big armed chair and shocked into eternity. The strain on the unfortunate man's mind must be something fearful, and his intense ignorance is in this awful crisis really a blessing to him, for he has not enough intelligence to realize the terrible ordeal he must pass through.

No one but Warden Durston knows just when the fatal shock will be applied, and no one but the warden and the selected jury will know that the law has been vindicated until after the mystic current has done its awful work.

The Apparatus Tested.

An electrical expert went through the prison and made a most complete and thorough examination of all the electrical apparatus. He describes it as follows: The work is skillfully done. The only place possible for a flaw is between the engine, which is an ordinary shop affair, and the dynamo. The engine is too far away. The connection is by means of counter shafting, which makes the slipping of a belt or the breaking of a pulley possible, perhaps at a critical moment.

It is but fair to say, however, that this has been provided against by new and tight belts and secure pulleys. The two dynamos are well set. The exciter, a medium sized, straight current machine, with its resistence box, is conveniently placed. The Westinghouse alternating current dynamo occupies a central position in the small room which has been partitioned off at the end of the hollow ware shop. From it the two death wires run separately to a switch, thence to a point a foot or two off, where their ends are turned off.

The Death Current.

The wires a little further on are connected in multiple arc with a Cardew volt meter. From the Cardew volt meter in the dynamo room the wires pass to the roof and are extended along on neat fixtures for a distance of 700 feet, until they reach the switchboard room, which is also the death chamber. In this room, which is in the basement of the front of the prison, is a very neat and well devised arrangement of testing apparatus and switches.

The idea that pressure upon a button would actually cause the killing is erroneous. The probable mode of operation will be as follows: The button will be pressed to start the dynamo. One of the switches in the death chamber will then be closed, passing the current through the testing apparatus. The test satisfactory, Kemmler may then be brought in and adjusted in the chair. When he is in position the testing apparatus may be again used for a moment to make assurance doubly sure. Then everything will be ready for the final stroke, which will be accomplished by the closing of the switch board.

KEMMLER RESPITED.

Judge Wallace Issues an Order Which Delays His Execution.

LATER.—AUBURN, N. Y., April 30.—Judge Wallace, of Syracuse, has issued an order to produce Kemmler before him June 6th, and the execution will therefore be postponed.

It Causes Alarm.

PESTH, April 30.—The agitation among the workingmen of Hungary is assuming colossal proportions, and the feeling of alarm among the people increases proportionately. The employes on the Saxon railways are among the first to receive notice that dismissal and prosecution will be the penalty of absenteeism on May 1.

FLOODS STILL RAGING.

People in Need of Assistance and the Situation Distressing.

GROSSE TETE, April 30.—The protection levee in front and opposite the Texas Pacific depot gave way, letting the waters directly in upon the already inundated and helpless town, which had been under for several days from back water coming from the Broquete crevasse two miles below. The people have their stock on platforms and Indian mounds, and both people and stock are badly in need of assistance at once. They have no food and no money to buy any with. The situation is distressing. The weather is cool, with light rains.

PARIS, Tex., April 29.—Reports from Red river are to the effect that it is higher than it has been for forty years. There was thirty-four feet of water at Arthur city yesterday morning. All the lowlands are inundated, several houses are reported to have been swept away, and the occupants of others had to move out in boats. The loss will be very great.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 29.—The Arkansas river is as high as it has ever been this year, and an immense volume of water has been passing here all day. News from Little Rock states that the river at that point has risen a foot and a little over in the last twenty-four hours.

He Was a Colleague of John Brown.

DETROIT, Mich., April 30.—William Lambert, the richest colored man in Michigan, committed suicide while temporarily insane. Lambert was born in Trenton, N. J., seventy-two years ago and came to Detroit in 1830. He was one of the foremost conductors of the underground railway and many a slave he helped to Canada during the war. In 1858, when John Brown came to Detrott, Lambert met him, and in the conference Brown's attack on Harper's Ferry was planned and discussed. Lambert was a member of Brown's famous Chatham convention, and was the treasurer of the League of Liberty which grew out of it, Brown being the president. He was a close confidant of Brown all the time, and during the later years a leader of his race. He was prominent in Masonic and Odd Fellow circles, and leaves property valued at $100,000.

A Chapter of Accidents.

MARENGO, Wis., April 30.—On Monday morning, while Anton Foraker was chopping down a tall pine tree, it toppled, and falling to the earth, crushed to death his two boys, aged 7 and 5 respectively, who ran under it. In the afternoon a little dwelling, occupied by Ole Hanson, a Swede chopper, was found to be ablaze. The mother was absent. The father, at work near by, rushed in through the burning door and grabbed up the cradle, in which he supposed his 6-months-old babe was lying. He got outside again, but was very badly burned. He put the cradle down and began examining his wounds. When the house was a mass of smoking ruins he turned to take the baby from the cradle, but the cradle was empty. The babe had been burned to death in the house.

Fighting Councilmen.

ZANESVILLE, O., April 30.—The city council here organized amid highly exciting scenes. William Shinnick, Jr., was elected city clerk, to succeed John H. Best (Rep.) Best refused to surrender the office, and Shinnick pushed him to one side and began calling the role. Best grabbed the paper and was shoved violently back against the railing. Members crowded around the combatants and for a minute a general fight seemed imminent, but the police rushed in and a motion to adjourn was declared carried. The Republicans claim that one of the Democratic members has lost his seat by temporary removal from his ward, which would make the council a tie.

Down and Up They Went.

RICHLAND, N. J., April 30.—A gang of men employed by the Seashore Railroad company, a new concern, attempted to put down rails to cross the tracks of the West Jersey railroad Tuesday morning, but as fast as the rails were put down a gang of men employed by the latter company pulled them up. The men of the West Jersey company finally ran a heavy locomotive on the crossing, which prevented the Seashore men from doing any further work. Several personal conflicts occurred between the rival workmen, but as yet no one has been seriously injured.

Thinks He Must Take Kemmler's Place.

BROOKLYN, April 30.—John Margaria, an Italian fresco painter, 35 years old, is under the delusion that he has been substituted by the state authorities to die in Kemmler's place. The medical officers of the city have pronounced Margaria insane, and he will be sent to an asylum.

Found Not Guilty.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Charles W. Pierce, superintendent of lamps of the Brush Electric Light company, who was charged with manslaughter in the killing of Henry Harris at 662 Eighth avenue November 30 last, was found not guilty by a jury in the court of general sessions and immediately discharged.

His Bond Is $5,000,000.

BUTTE, Mon., April 30.—The sensational contest among the heirs of the $7,000,000 estate of the late A. J. Davis has resulted in the appointment by Judge McHatton of John A. Davis, brother of the deceased, as administrator, with a bond of $5,000,000. The case will be appealed to the supreme court.

The Notorious Greenleaf Caught.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 30.—Greenleaf, the notorious Seminole outlaw, who has foiled all efforts to arrest him for the past eighteen years, has been captured and placed in the United States jail. He has three cases of murder pending against him in the Federal court here, and has killed four of his own tribe since.

IN THE FIELD OF LABOR.

The Situation in Chicago Approaching a Crisis.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE.

Barracks Will Be Fitted Up to Accommodate the Police at the Packing Houses—The Boston Carpenters Are United in One Body.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The demand that the packing house laborers' union will send out Wednesday morning to the packing house proprietors was the one subject of discussion at the stock yard, and preparations for trouble are already being made.

At the establishment of the International Packing company arrangements were in progress to close down Thursday. Fowler Bros. were putting their premises in order for continuing operations behind closed gates and a high fence erected during the last strike and surrounding their entire place.

The steam fitters at Armour's quit work on being refused the eight hour day, and the coopers at Botsford's struck against the contract requiring a deposit of two weeks' wages with the employers. None of the other workmen, except those named, joined in what was first thought might be a stampede.

The railroad work at the stock yards transfer, making up of trains, switching, etc., is done by the Switching association, and it is said that the members of this organization, if the packing house employes go out, will lend them their assistance by refusing to handle any cars for the houses involved. Such a move would be a crippling blow to the packing interests. Yardmaster Martin said that he did not credit the story.

Will Put Up Barracks.

Chief of Police Marsh and two assistants have paid the packing houses a visit, and as a result barracks to accommodate 100 policemen will be fitted up and occupied on Thursday.

Chief Marsh said that as a strike is declared the police department will take charge of the stock yards district, and, since the premises are private, will clear them of everybody who has no business or right there. The Armour company has sworn in about fifty special officers, and it is expected that other packers will take similar measures.

It is almost certain that by Monday at least 4,000 of the 6,000 carpenters now idle will go to work for the members of the new employers' association. The journeymen's council had a stormy session debating this proposition. A strong minority were against any resumption of work until all the men could go back at once.

The more conservative majority, however, believed that with 4,000 men at work for those employers who were disposed to meet them half way the strike could be carried to a successful conclusion against the members of the old Master Carpenters' association.

The Carpenters' Strike.

The Journeymen's council issued a long reply to the statements published by the Masters' association regarding the bootless conferences of Saturday. The circular asserts that misleading reports of former conferences were made by the Masters' association, and that the journeymen desired to have disinterested citizens present as witnesses.

The employers refusing to meet the journeymen in company with the citizens, the latter declined to have anything further to do with the matter. In conclusion the circular offers to waive the question of employing none but union men if the association will submit the other points of difference to arbitration.

Considerable excitement among the journeymen has been caused by indications that a member of their strike committee has been systematically supplying President Goldie, of the Master Carpenters' association, with the strikers' secrets.

The result was the summary dismissal of the entire committee and the appointment of a new one. Dissensions among the journeymen are feared as a result of this action.

Put Poison in the Sugar.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 30.—Michael H. Kitson put strychnine in the sugar bowl at Barrett's restaurant and liberally dosed his coffee. He died in a short time. A little later Benjamin Barrett, the proprietor of the restaurant, sat down to supper and used sugar out of the same bowl. He was taken violently sick, and his life was saved only by hard work on the part of the physician. Kitson was led to self destruction by despondency produced by drink.

The Bill Creating the Territory of Oklahoma Proves Defective.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The bill creating the territory of Oklahoma, which was passed by the house and senate and sent to the president last Friday, must be referred again to congress because of a fatal defect in its phraseology. The commissioner of the general land office, to whom the bill was referred, reports that the clause describing the boundaries of the territory reads: "Western line of Texas" where it should read "Eastern line of Texas." The president will send the bill back to Congress with a message calling attention to this defect, and congress will have to amend the bill.

Shot Himself in a Faro Bank.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—H. Clay Grey, a well known commission merchant on Ninth street, near Pennsylvania, shot himself through the head about 11 o'clock Monday night in a faro bank at the south end of the long bridge. He had been drinking and presumably losing heavily. As soon as a carriage could be obtained he was brought to the Emergency hospital. His wound, located over the left temple, is an exceedingly dangerous one, but the physicians say he may recover. Grey resided at No. 1212 B street southwest, where he has a wife and two children.

Editor Clark Returns.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Word has been received that Editor James A. Clark, of The Laurel Quill, who disappeared in this city last Thursday, had been found safe and sound, and had returned home. No explanation of his absence is given.

That Sensational Marriage.

PETERSBURG, Va., April 30.—Mrs. Jennie Thorpe, who was married to G. R. Hubby in Fernandina, Fla., on Wednesday last, under sensational circumstances, he threatening to shoot her unless she complied with his wish, has arrived here, and is stopping with her sister, Mrs. Joseph B. Worth. Mrs. Thorpe states that after the marriage ceremony had been performed Hubby threatened to kill her if she left him during his absence. As soon as Hubby left home she procured a hack, and in company with two gentlemen, friends of her father, she rode forty miles through the country to Callahan, Ga., where she took the train for Petersburg to get out of the way of Hubby, as she was afraid he would carry out his threats. Mrs. Thorpe has employed able counsel to have the marriage ceremony annulled. A prominent citizen of Salem, Va., to whom Mrs. Thorpe is engaged to be married, arrived here last night from Norfolk, where, for the first time yesterday, he read of her marriage to Hubby. Mrs. Thorpe is widely known in Petersburg. Col. Brink, father of Mrs. Thorpe, is confined to his bed from a fall he received some days since, but he threatens summary vengeance on Hubby when his health will permit.

Slashed by a Negro.

RICHMOND, Va., April 30.—John Thomas, a young white man, who was fearfully cut early Sunday morning by an unknown negro, has died from the wound. Thomas and another white man were together at the time of the cutting. Thomas had in his hand a bottle of whisky, the cork of which he desired to remove. Not being able to get it out Thomas stopped a negro on the street and offered to give him a pickle if he would draw the stopper out. The colored man accepted the offer, and after complying with the request demanded the promised reward. Thomas cursed him, whereupon the negro slashed Thomas across the abdomen with the knife he had used in taking the cork from the whisky bottle, inflicting a wound from which the intestines protruded. The negro has not yet been found.

The Entire Party May Perish.

BONHAM, Tex., April 30.—A few days ago parties from Whiteright, in Grayson county, and Savoy, in this county, went hunting and fishing in Indian Territory. Before they became aware of their perilous position they were surrounded by water, caused by the recent rise, and being completely cut off from high ground were compelled to take to the trees. They can be heard shouting for help, but no one can reach them. They have been in the trees two days. A relief party has left here with ropes and boats, but as the river is full of drift wood and the current very rapid it is doubtful if they will succeed in affording help. The chances are ten to one the entire party will perish.

Discipline Saved Them.

AUSTIN, Minn., April 30.—Fifty children narrowly escaped being burned to death in the Austin high school. The building caught fire while school was in session, and, fanned by a gale of wind, the flames spread rapidly. The pupils owe their escape to the fire drill in which the school has been trained. They marched through the smoke filled halls with military precision and reached the ground in safety. The school building was entirely destroyed. Loss, $50,000; insurance, $17,500.

The Wizard Makes a Match.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—"Wizard" Schaefer and Coast Champion McCleary have deposited $1,000 as forfeit on a billiard match, which will be played the nights of May 29, 30 and 31. At Metropolitan hall next Thursday another $1,000 a side will be deposited. They will play 1,000 points each night, and Schaefer will allow McCleary a single discount. The match will be for $2,000 a side.

The Requisition Issued.

RICHMOND, Va., April 30.—Governor McKinney has issued a requisition on Governor Fleming, of West Virginia, for John Henry Baisden, who is wanted in Buchanan county, this state, where, it is charged, on Jan. 31 he and his brother, William Baisden, brutally murdered Robert L. Evans.

Couldn't Fine Himself This Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Ex-Police Judge Laidlaw, of Oakland, who a short time ago fined himself $50 for drunkenness spent the night in a cell for creating a disturbance in the streets. Laidlaw was recently removed from office.

The Weather.

Rain; cooler; southerly winds, becoming northwesterly.

A Strike at Duluth.

DULUTH, Minn., April 30.—About 300 laborers on the ore docks at West Superior have struck for higher wages. They are now receiving forty cents an hour and demand fifty.

Pianos-Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

BONNER.

All persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should call at the Brockerhoff House stables and see the trottingbred horse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by Messenger. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years.

This horse has always been kept for service. However after one week's training upon the track, at Lewisburg he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

'STARTLE'

The proprietors of Bonner have also purchased Startle.

Startle is a light colored chestnut bay; he will be 5 years old in May and is sired by Bonner. His dam was a dark chestnut sorrel by Gold Dust, and his grand dam was of the Justin Morgan stock of horses.

Startle will also be kept for service and can be seen at the Brockerhoff House stables.

TERMS OF SEVICE.

Single service $8 cash in advance.

Season service without, insurance $15 cash.

To insure mare with foal $25 payable as soon as mare is known to be with foal.

A choice of horses will be given parties.

Howard Happenings.

On Friday evening our quiet village was aroused by the appearance of a parade on our streets by members of P. O. S. of A, from Eagleville, Beech Creek and Lock Haven. After the parade they repaired to the G. A. R. room to organize a Camp for this place. We have not learned the particulars of their success.

Miss Susan Pletcher, of Howard township, died on Friday at 2 p. m. The funeral took place from the residence of her father, Samuel Pletcher, at 10 a. m. on Sunday. Deceased was aged 48 years.

Mrs. Reuben Butler died on Tuesday and was buried on Thursday. She was 66 years old, and leaves a husband, one son and two daughters to mourn their loss. The deceased had been a member of the Evangelical church for a number of years.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson died last week and was buried on Tuesday in the Howard cemetery.

We are sorry to hear that William Tipton is dangerously ill, at the home of his mother in this borough, with pneumonia.

One day last week a team of horses belonging to Mr. Robb, of Curtin township, became frightened at the cars and started for Bellefonte on a dead run. They were caught, however, before any damage was done.

The Handsomest American Vineyard.

Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., has been long and favorably known as the pioneer Grape Grower of America. His Vineyards at Passaic N. J., are the handsomest in the country and contain over 300 miles of wire stretched on posts, and over two miles of carriage drive under grape arbors. At the season of the year when the grapes are being gathered for the press, it will repay one for a visit. Mr. Speer's Wines are used in the leading hospitals of the country. Can be had at all druggists.

TWO DEATHS.

Mr. John Eckenroth, son of Charles Eckenroth, of this place, died in Gallitzan on Saturday and was buried in that place on Monday at 9 o'clock. He was aged about 23 years.

Also, the three year old son of William Ikey, died on Saturday morning and was buried on Sunday afternoon at Curtin's works.

Charles Cosgrove!

Who has not been able to attend to his business for years, was interviewed by our reporter yesterday, and says; For years I was troubled with Bright's disease of the Kidneys The doctors gave me up. Through an Eastern friend I obtained a bottle of Sulphur Bitters. I took five bottles and now I am almost well. Keith sells them.—San Francisco Call.

Scrofula and Salt Rheum

The heritage of which every human being is almost as certain as he is of air, sunlight and breath, is Scrofula Humor. Far away in the realms of history we catch glimpses of what a curse upon the people this all-prevalent contamination made itself. Poor diet and insufficient food, ill ventilation, filth and dampness, all assist the slumbering germs of Scrofula to overpower the vitality of the body and run riot in the system. The blood in its process of renewing the waste cannot expel any inherited taint of weakness or impurity. It can only be removed by the action of some purifying medicinal agency, which assisted by nutritious food, well digested and assimilated into blood, gradually insures the possession of sound health. Such a renovating remedy has Brown's Sarsaparilla proved itself to be, whether this taint has given rise to Scrofula, Salt Rheum Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver Complaints, or Kidney Diseases, which are the most frequent manifestations of its presence, all have readily yielded to the clean and purifying action of Brown's Sarsaparilla.

Cured by the Use of

of Scrofula, cured by Brown's Sarsaparilla, has excited the people living in and around the town of Lee, Me. Mr. Averill writes us as follows: "My son has now taken fourteen bottles of Brown's Sarsaparilla, and I am sure it has completed a cure. His case was the worst I ever saw. His face was covered with what seemed to be scales or scabs, and the itching was so intolerable that he tossed about in agony through many a sleepless night. He commenced some weeks ago to use Brown's Sarsaparilla in connection with the salve you sent to allay the irritation, and now he is so far recovered that we consider his complete cure as certain." Mr. J. W. Burke of Lee, chairman of Penobscot Co. Commissioners, says: "It is wonderful what Brown's Sarsaparilla has done for young Averill." In this case Brown's Sarsaparilla threw open the bowels and pores of the skin, at the same time entering the blood, beginning a vigorous warfare on the impure matter found there, and which was a constant source of supply for the scrofulous humor on the outside. In time this was expelled from the system, and only pure matter entered the blood.

SALT RHEUM.

On Davis Street, in Bangor, resides Mrs. Edwin Wiley, whose daughter was badly afflicted with Salt Rheum. At times her face and hands would be covered with blotches. So intense was the itching sensation that applications of salt were made to destroy it. For a long time no relief could be obtained. One day some one suggested Brown's Sarsaparilla, and a bottle was purchased. Later Mrs. Wiley brought her daughter to the establishment of Mr. Ara Warren where Brown's Sarsaparilla is made. The face that a short time previous was covered with blotches, burning and itching, presented as fair and smooth an appearance as that of any young lady. LESS THAN ONE BOTTLE WAS USED.

THE WEATHER FOR MAY.

What Rev. Mr. Hicks Believes Will Come to Pass Meteorologically.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, in his Word and Works, has the following weather predictsons for May.

The disturbance originating the last of April will reach its climax about the 1st and 2d of May. It will be very warm between April 29th and May 4th, not covering the whole country at the same time, of course, but starting in the West, and causing a high temperature, by turns, over the whole continent in its progress to the East. Storms of much energy will result after the same progressive order, with a very cool wave following in their wake, and reaching the Atlantic about the night of May 3rd. The reactionary movements will be central on the 6th, touching the 5th and 7th in their Eastward progress with rising high temperature and storms. The regular fall of temperature will follow, in all probability reaching the frost line in the North about the 6th, 7th or 8th.

The second marked storm period for May is from the 10th to 15th. Mercury and "Vulcan" are both central on the 12th. The equinox of Mars reaching forward from the 26th, has come upon the field, and the moon's last quarter is on the forenoon of the 11th. These factors combined with the fact that we have not yet passed out of the Jovian period, unless there are neutralizing forces in the combination unknown to us, indicate storms of every great energy about the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th. Within the limits here given, dangerous storms are more than liable to cross the country, jeopardizing property and lives. Should such arise there will be timely tokens of the approach, and ample time for all proper and prudent self-defence, to those who count the subject of sufficient importance to watch. Of course, the usual cool wave will follow the storms—this time a full-grown one—gradually surrendering its grip for the reactionary storms on and next to the 18th. There will be good reasons for watchfulness, when clouds appear about the 18th and 19th. Very cool nights will follow.

The last regular storm period for the month will be from the 22d to 26th. There is much tendency to an aggravated atmospheric condition, at times, when the moon is at her first quarter, which falls on the 26th, with the equinox of Mars. Hence this period will concentrate its force on its last days, or will be prolonged beyond its normal time, in continued rains up to the reactionary movements on and about the 29th.

The outlook for May is that there will be heavy and general rainfalls, with much cool weather, rising into abnormally high temperatures during the passage of storm centers on and about the danger days. Earthquake phenomena will result about the same times, the most probable being about the 18th and 19th.

She—Oh, horrors! He—What is it, darling? She—I forgot poor pussy, left her in the house alone, and we off for a week. She'll starve. He—O, I remembered her. I left a can of condensed milk on the kitchen table with a sardine opener beside it.

Libby Prison.

"Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R. of Bellefonte, was presented on Monday evening with the only original picture of "Libby Prison." The presentation was made by Col. W. R. Teller, late proprietor of the Bush House, who was formerly a resident of Richmond and is a southern gentleman by birth, and who was also an officer in the confederate army under General Mahone. The presentation of a picture by such a man to a Grand Army Post shows that things have become rather friendly all along the line.

The above is what the Lock Haven Democrat has to say about Mr. Teller, Gregg Post, Libby Prison, the picture and the south.

—When the editor of the Renovo News talks of this paper having a "bad attack of religious intolerance," he must certainly be "off his base." We do not remember of being seized that way lately.

"I wonder why Eastern people make so much fun of our feet," said a Chicago girl to a Pittsburgh damsel.

"Well," was the reply; you'll have to admit that the subject covers a good deal of ground."

The Cleary Case.

The legal gentlemen employed in the Cleary murder case, argued the matter for and against the new trial Monday and Tuesday before the Supreme Court and returned to their homes in this city this morning. When the decision of the Court will be rendered is not known. The Supreme Court is a ponderous body and sometimes moves very slowly.

In regard to this case the Philadelphia Press of this morning says:

"Just before the adjournment of the Supreme Court on Monday afternoon Chief Justice Paxon called the case and announced that, while the Supreme Court could not hear argument then, it would ask that the paper books in the case be presented to them to look over before beginning the hearing in the morning. When the case was called for argument yesterday morning W. C. Kress and C. S. McCormick, counsel for Cleary, and District Attorney Brungard and T. C. Hipple, counsel for the Commonwealth, appeared prepared for argument. To them the Supreme Court then announced that the only argument it wished to hear was upon the point against Judge Mayer's charge in reference to the previous good character of Cleary.

"In charging the jury on this point all that Judge Mayer said was, 'good character is always of importance and is evidence to be duly considered by the jury, and may turn the scale where there is reasonable doubt as to the degree or grade of the crime.'

"Against this counsel for Cleary argued that the decision of the Supreme Court had established that 'evidence of good character is substantive and must be treated as such, that it is not a mere make-weight to be thrown in to determine the balance in a doubtful case, but that it may of itself, by the creation of a reasonable doubt, produce an accquittal.' Under this principle of law it was claimed that Judge Mayer had so instructed the jury that the evidence of good moral character was utterly frittered away and rendered worse than useless. This was particularly true in this case because the contention is entirely as to the degree of the crime."—Lock Haven Democrat.

—A Bellefonter tried to have the special train wait for him on Friday evening, but it wouldn't do it. Start in time when you want to go anywhere, is the best motto.

—District Attorney J. C. Meyer would like to have us give him another local on his trout fishing the other day, but we won't do it: 'Cause why? He only offered us ten cents a line and he paid twenty-five cents for the others.

A Narrow Escape From a Serious Accident.

Mr. James H. Potter, on Wednesday evening, was out driving with a colt hitched in the buggy. On his return and when driving down Water street along Harris' hardware store, the animal frightened at some muddy water that flowed from the Harris' oil well. Mr Potter hit the colt with his whip to make it go around when it suddenly sprang towards the creek. It stopped on the very brink and one wheel of the buggy was over the edge. Mr. Potter, however, sprang out and caught the vehicle keeping it from going entirely over, at the same time suddenly and strongly pulling the horse into the street and away from the brink. The bank at the place the accident occurred is a stone wall twelve or fifteen feet in height and, had horse, buggy and driver gone over, there may have been some serious injury.

The improved method of fastening the strings of Pianos, invented by the Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Company in the year 1882, is unquestionably one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in its tone, as well as more durable, and much less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be a good musical instrument. Illustrated catalogues, containing description of new and popular styles of Organs and Pianos, introduced this season, will be sent free to any one add ressing the Company, Boston, New York or Chicaga.

—All stamped envelopes which are spoiled by mistakes committed in superscribing, will be redeemed by the post office department at their stamp value. Postage damaged by sticking together in warm or damp weather, or for other causes before using, may be returned to the department and their value repaid to the purcasher or exchange for new stamps. All redeemed envelopes and stamps are sent by postmasters who redeem them to the department and records of the same are kept. These regulations are, we think, not generally known at large, and their publication may be beneficial to a large number of people.

The Time was Extended.

On Friday evening at the Sheriff's office inquisitions were held on two pieces of real estate on which Liens had been taken. One was a double lot in Point Lookout on which there is erected a hotel building, large barn and other buildings. Indebtedness $1400. The jury decided the revenue from the rental of the property would be sufficient to pay all indebtedness within seven years and the property was not condemned.

The other was the property of Mr. Lutz in Bush's Addition on which the time was also extended.

—The deputy recorder, Mr. Will Harter is sick, and has gone to his home in Millheim. We hope he will be able to be at his place of business next week as Will is a genial, wholesouled fellow, and his smiling countenance is much missed.

THE SALOONS.

Bishop Fowler, of San Francisco, speeks forcible, pertinent words in condemnation of the saloon, as follows:

In dark rooms and dingy cellars, in secret conclave, he devises his plans and mixes his drugs. By night and by day he draws out the catalogue of crime. With hands poluted with blood and locks that wriggle and crawl and hiss; and with heart unpitying and unrelenting he presses his infernal work. With the gold his crimes has brought him, he seeks to secure friends in the halls of legislation; to put his judges on the bench, his advocates at the bar, his witnesses on the stand, and, to make assurance doubly sure, his views in the public mind: He would control, if he could, not only our almshouses and prisons, but also our legislative halls and public press. He would fill not only our cells and graveyards, but also our judgment seats and our police commissioners. This is our foe—cunning as a fox, wise as a serpent, strong as an ox, bold as a lion, merciless as a tiger, remorseless as a hyena, fierce as a pestilence, deadly as a plague. To condemn and correct such a criminal is not the pastime of an hour, but the manly, hero born, martyr bred work of a lifetime.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.
The undersigned, having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease "Consumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address, REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

COWDRICK'S BARN BURNED.

Three Horses, Two Cows, Oats, Corn, Hay and Farm Implements Entirely Consumed.

It was just about 8 o'clock on Wednesday night when the cry of fire! fire! fire! rang out on the night air, and then the blowing of the thunderous fog horn on the electric light works left no doubt but that the cry of fire was genuine. In two seconds after the first cry it seemed as if everybody in Bellefonte and Spring township was on the streets and running in the direction of the North ward where a bright light was visible.

It was difficult for down town people to locate the fire and it was not until they reached Linn street that they found out where it was—that it was the barn of Morris W. Cowdrick. By the time the fire companies arrived on the ground the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to put them out, or even check them, until they had run their course and consumed the entire building.

Just how the fire originated it is difficult to tell unless it was incendiary, as no one of the family had been to the stable for an hour before and then there was no fire near the barn. Mr. Cowdrick is away from home, he being in Johnstown. Mrs. Cowdrick and the younger children were in the sitting room, having just come in from the rear of the house about ten or fifteen minutes previous, when they were startled by hearing Miss Orvis cry that "Cowdrick's barn was on fire."

When Mrs. Cowdrick ran out the entire building was already in flames, and it was impossible to go near to save any of the stock that was in, consequently three horses and two cows were burned. There was also in the barn about 300 bushels of oats, 150 of corn, and ten loads of hay, all of which was consumed together with some agricultural implements.

The exact value of the building and contents could not be definitely obtained but it will be several thousand dollars, on which there was little insurance. There was no insurance at all on the grain and animals and on the building only what might be claimed for it out of a general insurance on the entire property. One of the horses burned belonged to Mr. Samuel Gault. Harper's stable was pretty badly burned though not damaged beyond one hundred dollars.

THE WATER.

The stream of water had there last night was not sufficient to put out a fire of any size at all. This was no fault of the engineer, but was owing to the fact that the water in the reservoir is not more than ten feet higher than the fire plug on the upper end of Linn street. And as to pumping direct from the works, that could not be done as there is no main running out there. We think this would now be a good time to agitate some better protection against fire in the higher places of the town. For instance, on jail hill, bunker hill, Curtin street, East Linn street, and such places. There is now no protection there at all and, should a fire break out at either place, it would have to run its course before it could be stopped.

Child Drowned.

It caused quite an excitement on Tuesday forenoon when the news spread through town that a little boy had been found drowned in the dam. It proved to be the son, the oldest child of Harry and Sallie Bellman, who are here on a visit to her parents, Jacob Alter's, on North street. The little fellow whose age is five years strayed away from the house unnoticed, and attempted to cross a foot log which spans Elk creek a few rods below Alter's house. He tumbled into the water and having heavy clothing on, sank and was taken down the stream by the current. Before his parents missed him and gave the alarm, Mrs. C. W. Albright, one of the neighbors, discovered his body floating near the shore and at once ran down the high embankment and succeeded in dragging the child to shore.

She called to others for help and he was taken to her house and every possible means was employed to bring little Walter to life, but in vain. Life was extinct, and his grandfather finally carried him to his house, where the young and almost distracted mother sat waiting to receive her dead boy that had left her side but an hour before in the full enjoyment of health. The remains will be buried in Fairview cemetery on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, when services will be held in the Lutheran church. May the parents find consolation in the fact that Walter is numbered with the host of angels in the home beyond.—Millheim Journal.

Is it a "Cock and Ball" Story.

A rumor was circulated on the streets Wednesday that a cock fight had taken place in or near Bellefonte on Tuesday night. As the story goes one hundred and fifty game birds were represented as being entered, The contestants were from Danville, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Altoona, Bellefonte and a few other places. About fifty were to have been present to witness the fight which lasted from late in the evening until almost daylight in the morning. One singular feature about the on-lookers is that it is said that a prominent attorney of this place was present all night and watched the fighting with as much pleasure as if there was no law prohibiting it nor a heavy fine for those engaged in the same. Of course Bellefonte birds came off victorious.

The above is the rumor given as heard. We tried to find out all about it but could not. We now give it to our readers for what it is worth and if they can find out more about it they are welcome to it.

School Report.

Closing report of Stover's school Miles township, taught by J. H. De Long.

Number of pupils attending the school males 14, females 13, total 27. Average attendance for term 22. Percentage of attendance for term, males 97, females 99, total 98.

Amount contributed to the "Higbee Memorial Fund" $1.25. The following pupils were present every day during the term: Jennie Schultz, Stella Garrett, Nora Hanselman, Lucretia Adams, C. A. De Long, James Adams and Harry Hanselman.

In spelling, Miss Jennie Adams ranked 1st, she not having mispelled a word during the entire term. Nora Hanselman missed only 3 and Asenath Schade but 6. In order that earnest study be suitably recognized we wish to state that over ten thousand words were spelled by the class in which these pupils recited. Evening exercises were held frequently during the winter consisting of reviews, recitations, test spelling, etc., which were liberally patronized by the citizens of the district.

THE TEACHER.

Taken to Altoona for Treatment.

A Hungarian was brought to this city on the 1.40 train this afternoon and removed to the hospital for treatment to his head and spinal column which he injured at Bellefonte some ten days ago, by falling off a structure twenty-two feet high. He seems to be in a very distressing condition but relief will be given as soon as possible.—Altoona Mirror.

This is the man who fell off the ore dump at the Centre Iron Company's furnace, mention of which was made in this paper at that time.

Another Scheme.

It is reported that sharpers are in the country buying up walnut stumps and paying for the same at the rate of $1 a piece. When the rascal succeeds in making a trade he reaches for his wallet and finds he has nothing less than a $10 bill, which he gives to the farmer and receives in return $9 in change. After he leaves the farmer tries to pass the bill when he learns that it is counterfeit, Keep your eye open for the stump scamp.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong, of Potters Mills, died suddenly, on Monday last, at Lemont, while on a visit to his son, the landlord at the latter place. Mr. Armstrong left his home on the morning of the above day on a wagon, to visit his son and reached Lemont apparently well. In the afternoon he had a stroke of paralysis, and died during the evening aged over 80 years. Funeral at Potters Mills, on Thursday.

—Superintendent R. E. Pettit, of the Pennsylvania railroad and stationed at Altoona, has handed in his resignation to take effect the first of May. Mr. Pettit will travel abroad. There has yet been no one announced as his successor.

SHINGLETOWN VS. THE WORLD

The Biggest Fish Story—A New Railroad—More Soldiers—Big Ore Find—Solid for Hastings—A Rumored Gold Mine.

Shingletown may not be a very large city, and it may be located within the shadow of the Seven Mountains but, not withstanding all that, it is the place. We will back it up against the world or any other place and we know whereof we speak. There is more genuine living and let live here than you will find in any other country. Everybody is well and seems to live and enjoy the noise and bustle of this far more than the dim solitude and loneliness of a graveyard. But to our news. We will commence by telling a true fishing story.

A few days ago a party, composed of Lawrence Fox, Pitt Hoover and John Homan, all of Shingletown, went fishing for trout. They were not out very long and when they returned they presented to the astonished gaze of all Shingletown a "catch" of 175 trout, ranging in size from 6 to 16 inches.

There is going to be a railroad extended to this town in the near future. It is the Buffalo Run. Our citizens have given the right of way, ground for a depot, etc., and it seems an assured thing at this writing.

One of the best finds of iron ore in this State has just been made back of Shingletown in the Seven mountains. It will undoubtedly prove a bonanza to somebody.

Shingletown has the honor of sending more soldiers to the war of the rebellion than any other town in the United States.

The entire voting population—without one dissenting voice—is for Daniel Hastings for Governor for the next four years.

The latest report that has come in is that a gold mine has been discovered. Full particulars given in our next which will appear in the near future.

On the whole Shingletown is the liveliest and best town in the country and we defy anyone to show us a better.

More Kind Words.

The Bellefonte DAILY NEWS has entered upon its eleventh volume. The NEWS is an enterprising daily and that its circulation may be doubled is the wish of the Altoona Tribune.

The Bellefonte DAILY NEWS yesterday entered upon the eleventh year of its existence. The NEWS has always been a sprightly and readable little paper and takes good care of the interests of the village in which it is published, which place, by the way, the NEWS thinks is the exact centre of the universe. We hope the publishers may continue to reap the reward of their enterprise and that their paper may flourish like a green bay tree.—Altoona Mirror.

The Bellefonte DAILY NEWS has entered upon the eleventh year of its existence and seems to continue to prosper. It gives the full run of news of that town and section and seems to be appreciated.—L. H. Democrat.

Economy the watchword.

It is definitely settled that the members of the National Guard will be paid for only five days at the July encampment, instead of eight days, as last year. General Hastings does not want to retire from the office of adjutant general and leave a big deficiency as a legacy for his successor. During his term the number of marksmen has increased about 60 per cent, which has largely augmented the expenditure for ammunition and medals. Nearly the entire division has been supplied with new and improved guns, at an expenditure of many thousands of dollars. The fine rifle range at Mount Gretna was also costly. These expenditures were unusual and it is necessary to retrench in order that the books may balance when Gen. Hastings retires. In order to still further cut down expenses it has been suggested that the annual rifle matches be held at Mt. Gretna during the encampment, and Colonel Watres, inspector of rifle practice, has this matter under consideration.

A Chilling Set-Up.

After the iniquisitions were completed at the Sheriff's office Friday evening, the Sheriff very generously invited all to go down town and he would "set 'em up." Accordingly the party, nine in number, repaired to the ice cream parlor of Joseph Ceaders and proceeded to get away with the whole bill of fare of ice cream and about two plates of cakes, one of which the deputy prothonotary and district attorney piled behind their dishes first, and last—ate them. The entire party fully appreciated the Sheriff's generosity. When will there be another inquisition, Sheriff?

The Assembly Ball at State College.

The Assembly ball at State College on Friday night proved one of the most captivating and recherche occasions that has ever been known in that community. Fully three hundred ladies and gentlemen were present—all attired in full dress—and everything passed off as smoothly as if it was an everyday occurrence with the College boys. The full Stopper & Fisk orchestra of Williamsport was present and the music they furnished could not be surpassed.

There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen from Bellefonte among whom was Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Aikens and two daughters, Misses Emma and Lillie and party of friends as follows: Miss Bess Pomeroy, of Mill Hall; Miss Hess, of Lock Haven; Miss Effie Hamilton, of Tyrone; Miss Hoover, of Philipsburg; Mr. Leyden, of Beech Creek. Carriages met the entire party at the college station on the arrival of the special train, and conveyed them to the Armory building, where dressing rooms were arranged for both ladies and gentlemen, and all had an opportunity to "smooth their ruffled feathers" ere they entered the ball room. Refreshments were duly served on the large stage in the building, and, it is needless to say, they were elegant.

Attempted Murder, then Suicide.

Daniel Rittman, an Altoona Brewer, attempted to kill his wife after midnight Thursday night. He fired two shots at her, one striking her in the right arm the other entering the body about the seventh rib. Her injuries are not necessarily fatal. Failing to kill her before she escaped from him he turned the pistol and shot himself twice dying almost instantly.

—Did you see that pig race on Friday evening? It occurred on Howard and Spring street. It was between a five pound pig and a two hundred pound lady. The lady's husband brought home the pig and put it in a pen. There was a hole in the pen and the pig got out. Of course, the lady did not want to lose the pig so she had to give it a race. It is needless to say she was victorious and carried the pig back in triumph.

—Treasurer Cyrus Goss has moved himself and family from the house recently occupied by them on corner of Lamb and Ridge streets to the Boal homestead on Spring street, just recently vacated by Geo. O. Boal and family. We trust Mr. G. and family will find their new location pleasant and convenient.

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY.

"To take or not to take it, is the question—
Whether it is better to end this earthly career
A spinster—braving the smiles of those who would insist
That lack of lovers caused my lonely state,—
Or take the remedies my sisters take,
And see my eyes grow bright as tho' I bathed
In the immortal fount De Leon sought
In vain in Florida's peaceful shades.
I oft have heard my married sisters say
That good old Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Would bring back color to a faded cheek—
Restore the health of one who fain would die
To rid herself of all the pain she feels."

The aforesaid spinster took the remedy—and forthwith took a husband also, having regained her health and blooming beauty.

Thousands of women owe their fresh, blooming countenances to the restorative effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.

IN THE HALL OF JUSTICE.

Not Many Cases Tried but Considerable Work, All the Same.

Court convened promptly at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning and the case of Commonwealth vs. W. F. Richards was called. This case was brought at the instance of one Mr. O. C. Marks, who alleged that Richards had gotten a team of horses from him under false pretense. According to the evidence Richards purchased the horses and gave judgment, for the payment thereof, on a piece of land represented by him to be paid for and with a clear title when, in reality, there was incumbrances footing up more than the land was worth. The evidence was rather conflicting: the case took up all of the forenoon, the Court delivering his charge and the jury retiring at the adjournment of court at noon. When Court convened in the afternoon at 2 o'clock the jury in the Richards' case brought in their verdict which was that they found the defendant "not guilty," and divided the costs between Mr. Richards and Mr. Marks. The Court called the two men up and sentenced them each to pay half the costs and to stand committed till sentence was complied with.

The next case called was Commonwealth vs. John McKinney. Two counts —assault and battery and carrying concealed weapons. The case was brought at the instance of Prof. Richey, superintendent of the Philipsburg schools. On the 28th of March, the Professor testified, when attempting to correct the defendant for some misconduct, he drew a revolver, and, remarking "Now, d—n you, I defy you to touch me," pointed it at the Professor. Mr. Richey, not being able to do anything under such circumstances, merely sent the boy back to the school room and subsequently had him arrested. McKinney was called in his own defense and testified that he did not draw a revolver upon Mr. Richey, and further, that he did not have any revolver on his person. He claimed that the only thing he had was a small book (book produced in court.) Several other witnesses were called by the defense who testified that they never knew the boy to carry a revolver. Short speeches were made by counsel, the Court delivered its charge and the jury retired at 4,55 o'clock p. m., and in 20 minutes returned with a verdict of guilty in manner and form as he stands indicted, and recommend him to the mercy of the Court.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. The Supervisors of Boggs township. The case is an action brought against said supervisors for neglect to keep the public highway, known as the public road from Snow Shoe to Snow Shoe Intersection, from the boundary of Snow Shoe township to almost the valley road in Bald Eagle in good repair. The case was brought at the instance of andon the complaint of the citizen sof that neighborhood.

NOTES.

It was predicted at noon on Tuesday that the jury in the Richards case would acquit the defendant because his uncle was one of that body of men.

When the next jury was called the Court said it might be well to inquire if there were any uncles or aunts of those interested on the jury. To this the District Attorney said he felt satisfied there were no aunts and Mr. Jack Dale said that would Aunt-sir.

Hon. Jas. P. Coburn listened to the proceedings in court on Tuesday afternoon.

During the progress of the McKinney assault and battery case two leading young attorneys promiscuously handled five dollar bills trying to get up a bet on the case, but the bills went back where they originally belonged.

Ex-Judge Orvis displayed all of his old-time vigor in his efforts on behalf of John McKinney. This is the first case the Judge has actively engaged in since the Andrews murder trial.

Cyrus Gordon, Esq., was visible in the Centre county court house on Tuesday, and, from his apparent nervous appearance, we conclude that he was "just spilin" to roll up his sleeves and go into something or somebody up to his elbows.

All the witnesses that had been summoned in civil cases were discharged on Tuesday afternoon, as the Court found that it would be impossible to reach any such cases this week.

The Viedorfer case will likely be tried to-day but, if all other criminal cases be tried first, the Weaver case will hardly come up before to-morrow afternoon.

It is generally conceded that His Honor, Judge Furst, is entirely impartial in delivering his charge to a jury, though a man can generally tell what he thinks.

He is Insane.

The Altoona Tribune says Michael Koirilanial, the Hungarian who was admitted to the hospital on Friday last, having been brought to this city from Bellefonte, where he was injured by falling a distance of about thirty feet, has, during the last two days, been making considerable trouble to the hospital authorities. When he fell he landed on his head and he has been insane since. It was thought that he could be cured by admitting him to the hospital, but the efforts of the physicians thus far have been without results and the patient was very violent yesterday. Thus far he has torn up all the coverings he was given and yesterday he was given a blanket which it was thought he could not destroy, but before evening he had it torn into strips and obtaining a match in some way, he set the stuff on fire, and it was only the timely discovery of the flames by the day nurse that prevented a serious fire. It is thought that he will be removed to an insane asylum in a few days.

What was Done at Court.

On Monday morning court opened at 10 o'clock with all the judges on the bench and a goodly number of visitors in attendance. The usual Constable's reports, swearing of the grand jury, etc., were heard which consumed all of the morning session.

Court convened again at 2 o'clock p. m., and the first case called was Commonwealth vs. Ashcroft, for violation of the liquor law—selling to men of known intemperate habits. A jury was soon obtained and Mr. Meyer opened the case to the jury.

Jerry Funk was the first witness called. Jerry was Chief of Police of Philipsburg in December last and saw men of known intemperance habits buy and drink intoxicating liquor. Bottle was produced in court. Cork taken out; His Honor, and the attorneys, after smelling pronounced it—so far as they knew—to be whiskey. A. J. Gordon, policeman, corroborated Mr. Funk's testimony. Several other witnesses were called, the evidence of whom in a manner substantiated the charge. The defense offered some evidence but not conclusive. The jury on the case retired at 4.30 and in 20 minutes returned a verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. John Burket violation of the liquor law, was the next case called. The man was so dutch he could not plead guilty in English so the court appointed J. C. Harper, Esq., to defend him. A. M. Stine who was represented as getting the whiskey, was sworn and testified that Burket had brought the whiskey—a quart bottle—to his house. The witness paid him 50 cents for a quart bottle, still owing him 25 cents. From the appearance of the witness he had just got away with the contents of the bottle—or at least about such an amount. A colored man was next brought on the stand and he testified that he had given defendant 10 cents to buy him some beer on "Bucktail" day, but he said he got very little of it as Burket drank it most all. The only evidence offered by the defense was his ignorance, then they pleaded guilty. The Court sentenced prisoner to a fine of $500, costs of prosecution and to be confined in the county jail for a period of three months, and to stand committed until the sentence is complied with.

Peter Ashcroft was next called before the court and sentenced to pay a fine of $300, costs of prosecution and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of 60 days. His application for license, which had been held over pending this trial, was now refused by the court.

M e Speece, a domestic in the employ of John Irvin, of Philipsburg, charged with theft, pleaded guilty. Remanded to jail for further consideration. Court adjourned.

A Miner Killed Near Benscreek.

Johnstown Daily Democrat.

On Saturday morning David Earnest, employed at Mentzer's colliery, along Benscreek, about two miles west of Lilly station, met with an accident, which early in the afternoon terminated fatally. He was working at the head of the plane, down which the loaded coal wagons are let by a rope. The rope coils around a larfie drum, and to the other end empty cars to be drawn up are attached. In some way Mr. Earnest was caught between a coal wagon and the timbers about the drum and drawn through a space not much over six inches wide. The only visable injury was a fracture of the collar bone, but he suff-red greatly and died early in the afternoon, no doubt from internal injuries. He leaves a wife and family.

The above was the programme given to every one entering the comfortably arranged studio of Mr. and Mrs. Bonbright on Monday evening for the purpose of hearing an entertainment of music and literature. Quite a good audience assembled and it was but a few minutes past 8 o'clock when Mr. Bonbright came on the platform and opened the entertainment by a short address of welcome.

For some reason a slight deviation was made in the programme and the first rendition by Mrs. Bonbright was the third to the last on the programme. It is useless for us to try to describe the matchless performance of that lady; most all our readers know her wonderful mastery of the piano better than we can tell it. Suffice to say that in her performance of Monday evening she surpassed even herself.

The recital of Miss Gussie Crider showed considerable close study and practice, as well as an appreciable advance in the art of elocution. Master Walter Kurtz performed Mendelsshon's "Wedding March" in a very entrancing manner, and so on throughout the entire programme, each and everyone that took part performed his and her part with great credit to themselves and to the entire satisfaction of all those present. It would take up too much space to tell what we thought of each individual one so we must be content with complimenting all alike.

They Were in Nice Business.

Every town has within its limits girls whom, we are sorry to say, have not the least possible claim to ladyship all because of their very unladylike conduct And we are still more sorry to say tha even in this beautiful town of Bellefonte there are some such. And worst of all is the person, bearing semblance of a woman—dressed in feminine apparal—who parades the street at unseasonable hours of the night, indulging in loud and boisterous conduct and using language that most men would blush to use.

On Friday night, while a young man was returning from an errand to the Northern part of the town he was assaulted by two of the above described characters on the mere pretense that he had talked about them. Talked about them, mark you! One of the parties hit the young man with a board she carried and the other grabbed him and, to free himself, the young man was obliged to use force. This, however, was not at all ungentlemanly; when a girl so far forgets as to assault a young man after nine o'clock at night, and that too, when she is not positive as to his identity, she places herself in the position of any common drunk or vagabond, and the party assailed has the right to defend himself as best he can. We are sorry to know, however, that there are such girls in Bellefonte.

Millheim Locals.

Mr. J. H. Auman is putting a fancy fence around his front yard on North Main street. It will enhance the value of his property 50 per cent. It is observed that there are a number of other properties along Main street in that vicinity that could be much improved by having a good, substantial fence put around them.

Rev. Auman, the good looking minister who is now located at Bloomsburg, Pa., has recently visited his parents in this place.

Rev. Adams preached a very fine sermon on last Sunday evening in the new Reformed church on North street.

Will Hartman went through a severe surgical operation last Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. A. T. Swight, of R. L. Polk & Co., Philadelphia, publishers of State Gazeteers, is now in Bellefonte taking a classified list of all business men and industries. Mr. Swight is also soliciting advertisments from business houses that he will insert in the new State Directory, soon to be published at very reasonable rates. We think it would be a good investment for every business man to put in an ad. as the book will be circulated all over this and other states and the madium will be an extremely favorable one for advertising.

IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?

Belva Lockwood Tried Very Hard to Convince to the Contrary.

The Senior class of the Bellefonte High School have no reason to find fault with the audience present in the Court House Tuesday night to hear the far-famed lady lecturer and defeated presidential candidate, for there was a large house. Bellefonte is not visited very often by lady lecturers and especially by those who enjoy such a national—yea inter-national—reputation as Mrs. Lockwood. The Bellefonte band did its part to help draw the crowd by playing several pieces outside the court house and then rendering one piece inside.

It was just about 8 o'clock when Mrs. Lockwood assended the platform, escorted by Mr. Boyd Musser, who in a few well chosen remarks introduced the speaker, who was received with applause. Mrs. Lockwood is a well-preserved and magnificent looking-woman; rather large in body, with a small but well poised head. She was dressed in a costume made of some dark brown material richly trimmed with beads and lace. She wore a large bouquet on her bosom and a pair of gold-rimmed eye-glasses dangled from a small gold chain fastened in a buttonhole of her dress. All in all Belva is a fine looking woman.

When she arose to speak she produced a pile of manuscript about two inches thick and, as she proceeded with her lecture, she layed it aside page by page. We do not wish to disparage the lecture of the famous woman, nor discourage the young men who were instrumental in bringing her here; neither do we care to criticise a lecturer as renowned as Mrs. Lockwood, but, in all candor, we must say, and we but voice the opinions of many others, we were disappointed—the lecture was not as good as we expected.

"Is Marriage a failure? No, Sir," seems to be almost entirely made up of the sayings and opinions of others in conjunction with historical facts of the marriage rites and customs of ancient and modern foreign, barbarian and domestic governments. Mrs. Lockwood's construction and comments on the above were passably good but not sufficient to create a great amount of enthusiasm from her auditors nor to draw forth any applause worth mentioning. But, I must not be supposed that her lecture was, or that we thought it, an entire failure. On the contrary, it abounded in bright and pithy sayings relative to the subject under discussion, but the sayings were not Belva's, but simply cuttings and clippings from newspaper discussions and interviews.

Mrs. Lockwood's voice was in none the best condition for speaking and, after she had talked for an hour and a half, she made haste to get to the end of her manuscript which was reached in due season and the lecture closed with a few beautiful words of comfert and advice that, we doubt not, were all Belva's.
